

PROVIDER PROFILE

Alisha Wedding-Lambert, CNM

Women's Health

Certified Nurse Midwife Alisha Wedding-Lambert was born and raised in Washington state, with most of her early years spent outside Olympia.

Wedding-Lambert began her journey to midwifery as a massage therapist. Later she began coaching women through labor as a doula. Working as a doula, Wedding-Lambert went to nursing school at Westminster College, then spent eight years as a postpartum and labor registered nurse at multiple hospitals in Utah and Washington, including Mason General Hospital. She later graduated from Georgetown University, became a board-certified nurse midwife and began her midwife career at Multicare Tacoma General Hospital. She is excited to bring midwifery back to Mason General Hospital and is looking forward to helping empower women in their health care journey.

Special Interests

Getting to know patients and teaching them about health, pregnancy, birth control and evidence-based practices to help them reach their goals

Practice

Mason-Clinic — Women's Health
1701 N. 13th Street
Shelton, WA 98584
(360) 426-2653

Medical Degree

MSN, Georgetown University, Washington, DC, 2019

Certification

Board-certified, American Midwifery Certification Board

Mason Health
Mason General Hospital • Mason Clinic

250 12/2022